ERRATUM

In the Fall 1987 issue of the Journal (Vol. 24, No. 4), a printing error occurred in the article "A single-microphone-based self-adaptive filter of noise from speech and its performance evaluation," by D. Graupe, J.K. Grosspietsch, and S.P. Basseas. The scope traces represented in Figure 2 on page 123 were transposed. A pressure-sensitive pasteover of the correct figure was enclosed in the mailing package of the 1987 Rehabilitation R&D Progress Reports, distributed in February 1988, so that readers could make the correction to their individual copies of the Fall Journal. In April 1988, a second printing of the Fall Journal included the figure in its correct position.

For anyone who did not receive the corrected pasteover, or for those who need additional pasteovers, they are available on request from the Office of Technology Transfer, VA Prosthetics R&D Center, 103 South Gay Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202.
